Ike Gets 'Wild West' Welcome From Tribesmen

Wagner Will Present City Pay Program

City Manager's Recommendations Due Tomorrow

City Manager Dan Wagner has called a special session of the City Council for 7 p.m., tomorrow, to discuss his recommendations on the salary survey recently completed by the State Personnel Board.

Wagner outlined a plan for salary increases for city personnel at a personnel session of the council Monday afternoon, following the regular council luncheon session.

HE POINTED OUT that it would be impossible to come up with a full $8,000 per month in additional salary funds for city personnel prior to July 1, 1960, but did say that some increases could be given to city personnel prior to the start of the new fiscal year.

He is recommending that the police department, which has been a "hot spot" because of low salary scale, will get raises "according to the State Personnel Board recommendation" prior to the start of the next fiscal year.

Other changes are also recommended for certain divisions of the Public Works department.

THE STATE REPORT makes certain adjustments in the classification plan of the city and these changes will be put into force "just as soon as it is practical to do so. To what extent it is done immediately will be entirely up to the council," Wagner said.

MIAMI (UPI) — A 368-ton Dutch freighter began sinking on a Cuban reef today as a Cuban patrol boat made an attempt to rescue the eight persons aboard.

Support Urged

Goldberg Lauds Boys' Club Work

Dr. Benjamin Goldberg, prominent Palm Springs civic leader, today lauded the progress of the city's year-old Boys Club and urged Villagers to renew their support of this "excellent institution."

Dr. Goldberg, who was invited to inspect club facilities by the club's board of directors, was high in his praise of the "dedicated individuals" who developed the organization and offered commendations for the Boys Club building itself.

"THE BUILDING is very spacious and well equipped," Dr. Goldberg remarked. "It is adequate at this time but one can look forward to the time when enlargements will become necessary."

He particularly cited club director Ray Lockwood as "one of the dedicated individuals in this community who sees the great need for such work here."

"The results of club activities in decreasing juvenile delinquency and developing better youth is evident," Dr. Goldberg added.

CHAMBER DIRECTORS VOTE SUPPORT FOR HOSPITAL'S BONDS

The Board of Directors of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce by unanimous resolution have endorsed the $1,914,410 bond issue for the Desert Hospital, it was announced today by Chamber manager Jimmy Cooper.

The issue, which will come before the voters of the district January 5, provides for funds that will enable the hospital to keep pace with the spiraling population that our hospital must serve in the next ten years.

In order to be prepared for this tremendous population influx and provide hospital facilities that are going to be needed and must be built, the Chamber urges all voters in the district to support this bond issue, Cooper said.

City's Business License Totals Show Shortage

City Clerk Mary Gene Ringwald Monday released figures concerning the status of business licenses in the City of Palm Springs — as of Dec. 15.

As of this date, the city clerk has received a total of $147,254 in business license fees from a total of 1,767 in-town businesses and 268 out-of-town businesses.

There have been a total of 217 new businesses added within the city limits.

According to the report, the number of business licenses delinquent as of Dec. 15 totals 177 for revenue of $13,748.

The City Council has asked that a stiffer policing of business licenses on vending machines be enforced — even if it takes additional legislation to make sure that business license stickers are affixed to the machines.

Funeral Service Set for Infant

Funeral services will be conducted here Wednesday morning for Donna Macchell Johnson, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Valin Henry, of 617 Beech Street, who died at her home Monday morning.

Graveside services will be conducted at 11 a.m., Wednesday, at Desert Memorial Park by Rev. Walter R. Wyse, of the Bethlehem Pentecostal Church.

Living Costs Top October In New Record

Sixth Increase In Seven Months, Says U.S. Agency

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's living costs edged upward last month to another record high, the government reported today.

The Labor Department said its consumer price index rose 1-10 of 1 per cent to 125.6 per cent of average 1947-49 prices.

IT WAS THE sixth time in the last seven months that it climbed to an all-time peak.

Higher costs for transportation, medical care, housing and personal care more than offset declining food prices in November.

The increase means that 170,000 meat packing, aircraft, and other workers will receive pay boosts of from one to three cents an hour. Their wages are tied to changes in the index by escalator clauses.

EWAN CLAGUE, commissioner of labor statistics, predicted the index will stabilize between now and next spring, before climbing again next summer.

Asked if the movements represented creeping inflation, Clague replied:

Sandefffer Gains Presidency of Police Association

SANTA'S COOL, SAYS Little Candy Chase, and with the help of the El Mirador pool to bathe his Village-warmed feet, Santa does indeed enjoy all the comforts of his North Pole villa. Bearded Santa, garbed for high altitude sleighing, found the pre-rain Village too warm for Arctic shoe-packs, and joined with Candy in a refreshing toe wiggle at the famed resort. Blonde-tressed Candy, due for a visit from the warm-hearted Mr. Claus, discussed a reciprocal trade of ice-packs for a cheerful Yule. Santa reported his famed reindeer were cooling their supersonic heels in the nearby San Jacinto mountains. For pictures, stories of other Village Christmas activities, see Page 12. Noisiest Welcome of Tour Marks Visit to Casablanca

CASABLANCA, Morocco (UPI) — President Eisenhower flew here today from Madrid and received a rip-roaring wild west welcome by Berber tribesmen and hundreds of thousands of Moroccans who began gathering before dawn.

Eisenhower flies on to Washington tonight after a 6½ hour stay in Casablanca and conferences with King Mohammed V. Casablanca was the last stop on a 22,999-mile peace mission to 11 nations and the welcome was one of the noisiest yet.

MOHAMMED, wearing a long, fawn-colored burnoose with a hood and a peaked cap, shook hands warmly with Eisenhower whom he last saw on his trip to the United States two years ago. The welcome was warm but the welcome speeches were among the briefest of Eisenhower's three-continent trip.

The King, speaking in Arabic, welcomed the President to this country and said he hoped his short stay would be enjoyable. Eisenhower replied he was glad to be in Morocco, "one of the first nations of the world to recognize the independence of the United States."

EISENHOWER and Franco's farewells were almost as brief, but in a joint communique they disclosed they had discussed the western summit conference just ended in Paris, Eisenhower's trip to Moscow next spring, and Eisenhower's efforts to improve Spain's lot in the western alliance.

Eisenhower was cheered by 1,500,000 Madrilenos Monday in Spain, but his welcome today at the American air base of Nouasseur outside Casablanca and in the city itself matched anything he has received anywhere else on his 19-day peace mission.

THOUSANDS of Berber tribesmen, hawk-faced warriors who fought the French Foreign Legion 30 years ago, galloped their horses down from the foothills of the Atlas Mountains to cheer and wave at the President.

Children, waving tiny American and Moroccan flags and shouting "Eek" for Ike and "Vive le President" packed the sidewalks on the drive into town. It appeared the entire population of the city of 250,000 turned out to see the visitor.

29 Pints of Blood Given Yesterday

Palm Springs donors added 29 pints of blood yesterday to the Village "account" in the Riverside-San Bernardino two-county blood bank.

Desert Hospital director Robert Henwood said a total of 33 prospective donors turned out for the blood bank's monthly visit here and 29 pints of blood were accepted.

Henwood expressed the appreciation of the hospital for such an "excellent turnout" during the busy holiday season.

The Barry car was traveling south on the lane when it collided with the Lasher car, traveling east on Highway 111, the patrol said.

THOUSANDS READY TORCHLIGHT HELLO FOR IKE TONIGHT

Nixon has urged Americans to give the Chief Executive an enthusiastic reception when he returns from "this terribly hard schedule in the service of the cause of peace."

'Mean' Car Thief Strips and Burns Villager's Auto

Police today hunted an auto thief who took a Villager's sports car yesterday morning and left it stripped and burning in a Desert Hot Springs area gravel pit yesterday afternoon.

Police Traffic Sgt. Robert Young reported that a 1957 Corvette sports car, belonging to Marie G. Ravese, was taken from the owner's home at 1573 Via Miraleste.

Some eight hours later, Desert Hot Springs trailer park operator Orrie Gray spotted the plastic bodied sports car burning in a gravel pit northeast of Dillon Road, about 15 miles east of Desert Hot Springs.

Gray said the car had been stripped of usable parts and accessories, Young reported.

Industrials Backing Off

Lows Exceeding Highs In Market Generally

By W. A. La Tourette, Shearson, Hammill & Co.

The industrials have had several opportunities to penetrate their all-time highs during the past two weeks, but they have backed away on each occasion. Furthermore, many stocks have not been doing nearly as well as the averages as reflected in the fact that the number of new lows have been exceeding the number of highs.

It is natural that such cross-currents within the market should generate considerable caution, but a great deal of the distortions we believe, can be explained by year-end selling to establish losses and profits for tax purposes, which is exaggerated further by so-called "year end" activities of funds and institutions.

THE IMPACT OF shorts, which are covering to establish losses and profits, also should not be overlooked. As for the greater number of lows, a very high percentage represent preferred stocks and other issues which have been directly affected by higher interest rates.

With the year-end near at hand, the forecasting season is in full swing, particularly since 1959 marks the end of a decade. Looking back at the fifties, one important trend that stands out is the accelerating rate of new product development and its impact on the stock market. It seems almost certain that technological progress will be even more important in the decade of the sixties and that investors will have to be increasingly alert to the investment implications of technological change.

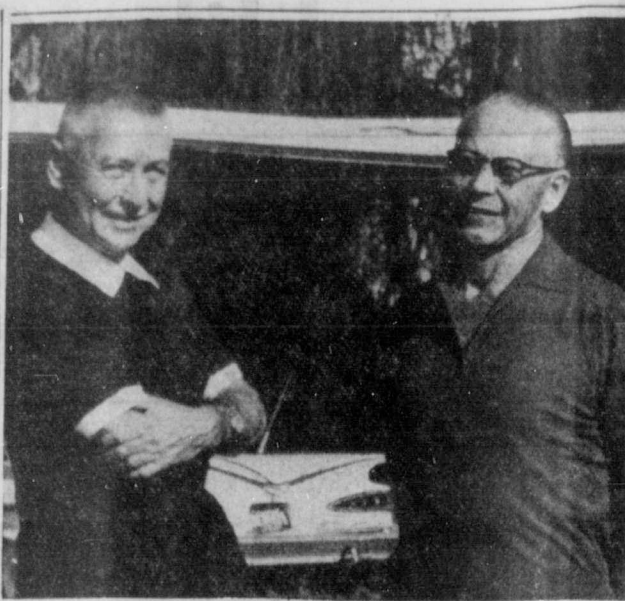

SOME OF THE more striking developments of the fifties, for example, included a major swing within the entertainment field from motion pictures to television, the development of the public's taste for compact cars, so ably exploited by American Motors, the shift toward filter tip cigarettes, with aggressive P. Lorillard the major beneficiary, the dramatic success of Polaroid's Land Camera, a steady influx of new drugs, such as the tranquilizers, which resulted in sensational earnings gains for Smith, Kline & French American Home Products and Carter Products, and the upsurge in electronics stimulated by the space and missile age, which led to a sensational market advance for many of these stocks.

Looking ahead into the sixties we are likely to see the advent of space travel a very heavy flow of labor saving devices as automation really comes into its own, the advent of commercial nuclear energy, and an even greater flow of new chemicals, drugs and electronic products from these research dedicated industries than we have seen in the past.

THESE AND OTHER areas will represent what a number of investment trusts call "new frontiers of economic growth" for some companies, but will have adverse effects on others. A full page advertisement by General Dynamics in Friday's New York Times, for example, centers around a new means of converting heat directly into electricity, which would mean no generator, no boiler and not turbine, such a development would, of course, have significant implications for the electrical equipment business.

The legal whisky industry pays two and a half billion dollars in taxes annually.

New Water Plan Asked

MWD Tells Demands For New Financing

The Metropolitan Water District of Southern California, a sprawling complex that serves 85 incorporated communities in five southern California counties, is calling for a more "business-like financing approach" to the state administration's water program as reflected in Senate Bill 1106, MWD spokesman Raymond E. Hudson said here recently.

With 654 miles of aqueduct system to bring water from the Colorado River at Parker Dam, the MWD will deliver approximately 1,170,000,000 gallons of water a day when the current $200,000,000 expansion program is completed next month, Hudson reports.

THE WATER SYSTEM complex, the largest water system in the world, has been constructed without federal subsidy, Hudson said.

Hudson asserted the $1,750,000,000 water program supported by Gov. Edmund G. "Pat" Brown has not been planned with sufficient detail to ensure delivery of water to the Southern Californian communities which Hudson says would bear a major portion of the bond burden.

HUDSON STATED that the MWD Board of Governors has urged that contracts for water service be firm, so that legislative action cannot modify the contracts during the life of bond issues.

In addition, the MWD calls for financing provisions to ensure completion of the proposed state projects in the event that bond issues fail to supply adequate funds.

THE MWD, which receives half the power from Parker Dam, and 36 per cent of the firm power from Hoover Dam, furnishes water for domestic, agricultural, and industrial use to approximately 7,000,000 people in southern California. The MWD board reiterated this fall that its operating facilities are designed for planned expansion, and will be able to handle full use of allowable Colorado River water when the need arises in an estimated 10 to 15 years.

The Board asserted that overlapping water distribution facilities and water authorities would be wasteful, and urged establishment of a seven-man California Water Authority, to direct construction, operation, and administration of the State Water Resources Development System.

HUDSON ASSERTED that the Board has renewed its October 2 appeal for state constitutional amendment to protect areas of origin of state water resources, as well as distribution areas.

The MWD favors "equitable" development and distribution of surplus northern California water, Hudson said, but called for guarantees of supplies if facilities are constructed.

The MWD water system was termed "one of the seven modern engineering wonders of the world," by the American Society of Civil Engineers in 1958. Facilities include 13 miles of 16-foot aqueduct tunnels through the San Jacinto mountains near here, plus 79 miles of other tunnels, and five pumping stations which lift the water 1617 feet over mountain ranges.

BOSS CALLS MIAMI NEWSMAN HELD BY CASTRO 'BULLDOG'

MIAMI (UPI) — His editors and co-workers know Jim Buchanan, Miami Herald reporter imprisoned in Cuba since Dec. 10, as a "bulldog" when it comes to digging up news stories.

"When we have a real tough story we want broken for us, we send Buchanan because he nearly always comes through," said Al Neuharth, Assistant Managing Editor of the Herald.

"HE'S LIKE a bulldog. When he gets hold of something he won't let go until he wraps it up," said Neuharth, "and that's why we sent him to Havana to check on the Austin Young story."

Buchanan, a newspaperman for 20 years, got the Austin Young story — the exclusive account of how the Miami soldier of fortune made a daring daylight escape from the prison at Pinar Del Rio. He found Young in a hotel room before an army of Cuban policemen and soldiers who were combating the island for the fugitive.

BUT IT LANDED him in jail. A short time after he filed his story, Cuban police arrested both Young and Buchanan separately. They charged the reporter with complicity in Young's escape and ordered him tried by a revolutionary tribunal.

The stocky Buchanan with crew-cut graying hair apparently is a victim of the "reporter's ethics" that kept him from telling Cuban authorities in 1958 the location of Fidel Castro's mountain hideout. At that time, he went to the rebel stronghold and interviewed Castro and his brother, Raul.

HIS TENACITY led him to get a number of exclusives during the Cuban civil war. He was the only reporter to get through rebel lines and find a group of American civilians kidnapped by Raul Castro. He won an award in 1959 for the top spot news reporting in Florida for an account of a Cuban rebel uprising entitled "I saw Cubans die in bloody battle."

He was co-winner of the same award in 1958 for his account of the Braniff Airliner crash at Miami International Airport. The same year he won second prize for feature writing for a series on Castro's rebels in the Sierra Maestra mountains.

Some people are more critical of cars than others, and they are the ones we want specially to drive the solid new Plymouth.

This car is built a new solid way by Chrysler Corporation engineers. It simply doesn't have many parts that work loose and need fixing in some cars. We'd like to answer some questions about this car now:

Q. What is this new way of building?

A. Chrysler Corporation's virtually trouble-free version of unit construction. Body and undersills are joined in a single unit of enormous strength, locked by close to 5400 welds. In Dura-Quiet Unibody, there is no frame and no conventional body bolts, struts, braces, etc., to loosen and rattle.

Q. What about power and performance?

A. There's the new 30-D Economy Six, a new "inclined" six that delivers outstanding economy in normal driving. The standard V-8 is the Fury V-800 which three times in a row topped its class in the Mobilgas Economy Run. Or you may choose the extra-cost SonaRamic Commando V-8.

If you ask us, this is the best built, best performing low-price car of all. Give it a real try soon, won't you?

A Chrysler-engineered product, built a new solid way to give you solid satisfaction.

The Desert Sun is an independent newspaper dedicated to truth, accuracy and impartiality in the news; to the progress of the desert region; to the support of that which it believes to be right and to the defeat of that which it believes wrong.

Have You Responded?

Latest reports show that the Community Chest campaign is still appreciably short of reaching the $80,000 quota required for this year.

Since this amount is considerably below the $100,000 or more goal of previous years, and now that funds are to be used exclusively for LOCAL organizations, it is difficult to understand why the response from residents here has not been sufficient to have completed the campaign some weeks ago.

There has been ample publicity of information concerning the Community Chest needs so that everyone in Palm Springs and the surrounding desert area is well aware of the annual call for funds to finance another year's operation of the splendid local groups dependent upon success in raising the necessary amount for each.

In addition several thousand letters have been sent out as reminders to residents that their subscriptions are needed.

Why then is response so slow? Certainly it isn't lack of money. Business conditions are good—in fact excellent in the desert. Also with the steady increase in population each year, there are more people making this their permanent or part time home who should make their Community Chest contributions here.

Is there a lack of support or enthusiasm? No. Nine people out of ten are quick to praise the agencies and the good work they do in the community.

The apparent apathy can only be attributed to the habit of many well intentioned people in simply putting off until "tomorrow" what they should do today. If you are one of these why not make out your check today and help simplify the job of the volunteer workers and shorten the time until Palm Springs can report with pride that the quota has been reached.

Don't be a laggart. Become a booster. Give until it helps. And give now.

You will feel happy yourself in knowing that you have been of real aid to a number of worthy local organizations and helped the community as a whole uphold its good name and reputation.

Nelson A. Rockefeller

(EDITORS NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles written by Everett S. Allen, award-winning staff writer for the New Bedford, Mass., Standard Times. It covers the complete career of New York Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller, bringing to light little known facts about the man mentioned as a Republican Presidential nomination possibility. Basil Brewer, Standard Times publisher, is a frequent winter visitor here.)

By EVERETT S. ALLEN
Standard Times Staff Writer
Wendell Wilkie, the No. 1 Republican in mid-1940, was in the middle of his presidential campaign through the West when Nelson Rockefeller came to see him in Salt Lake City.

Rockefeller started to explain to him that the Administration had offered him a job and he didn't know whether he should take it.

BEFORE ROCKEFELLER could finish, Wilkie broke in and said, "If I were President in a time of international crisis and I asked someone to come to Washington to help in foreign affairs and he turned me down for political reasons, I don't need to tell you what I would think of him — of course, you should go."

Rockefeller went. It was a turning point in his life.

ON JULY 25, 1940, he went back to Washington to see Franklin Delano Roosevelt and accept the job. Their conversation was interesting because it involved three obvious questions which could have been difficult, but which Rockefeller had to have answered before he said yes.

Could he take the job on a non-political basis because he was a Republican, always had been one, and expected to remain that way?

THE PRESIDENT agreed absolutely. And during the four years in which Rockefeller was co-ordinator of inter-American affairs, there was "never any interference" by Roosevelt or his staff in the selection of people, and approximately 5,000 were affiliated with the office during this period.

Would the Rockefeller family's association with the Standard Oil Company have an adverse effect because of the corporation's interests throughout Latin-America?

ROOSEVELT SAID that was his problem to worry about, not Rockefeller's, and he was not concerned with it. The family was well known throughout the republics for the work of the Rockefeller Foundation and Rockefeller Institute, and he was not "the slightest bit" concerned about that phase.

By what basic policy should Rockefeller be guided, other than the one within the framework of the "good neighbor" concept?

"ASK FORRESTAL," said the President. Later, when Rockefeller asked Forrestal, the latter replied: "That's your first assignment." "Government," Rockefeller concluded after this experience, "is not an abstract institution, but a group of free individuals."

ROCKEFELLER FELT there was a real possibility the Nazis might ultimately invade the Western Hemisphere. North Africa is close to the bulge of Brazil and it would have been a logical jumping-off place for an attack from the European theater, where the war was spreading rapidly.

Rockefeller's problem was this: If Latin-American Governments were not strongly tied to the United States and its concepts of freedom, they might not resist an Axis invasion.

NAZI AND COMMUNIST propaganda had done much to undermine this relationship with the United States by creating a feeling that North Americans were interested only in dollars, had no culture and no respect for individual dignity or spiritual values.

The Communists generally worked in intellectual and cultural circles, while the Nazis specialized in finances, politics and the military. In some countries, German interests actually controlled whole segments of the economy. If an attack came, the United States would be "in a very vulnerable position."

AD ROCK, TUESDAY
ROCKEFELLER'S AIM was to counteract these trends, by the following means:

UNDERSTAKE programs of inter-American co-operation to aid Latin Americans in achieving their economic and inter-American co-operation to aid Latin Americans in achieving their economic and social objectives.

REACH the Latin public through radio, movies, newspapers and magazines to tell them the story of U.S. friendship and common heritage.

OPEN cultural, architectural and scientific channels among the 21 republics.

"I TRIED TO GET the best people possible." That's part of Rockefeller's credo — getting

"the best people possible."

Among many who rallied to help him were John Hay "Jack" Whitney, now ambassador to the Court of St. James's, who, as producer of "Gone With the Wind," came on the team in the motion picture field; Karl A. Bickel, then head of United Press; Francis A. Jamieson, former Associated Press writer and Pulitzer Prize winner; Will Clayton, president of the cotton firm of Anderson - Clayton and developer of major cotton production in Brazil and Mexico; Wallace K. Harrison, U.S. architect with a worldwide reputation; Kenneth Holland, now head of the Institute of International Education Exchange (which handles nearly all Government contracts for thousands of foreign students coming to the United States annually), and many others, equally outstanding.

ROCKEFELLER WAS responsible only to the President, and had direct access to him. His office, CIAA (Co-ordinator of Inter-American Affairs) had the power to contract services with private groups as well as Government agencies.

Except for the work of the Creel Committee in World War I, the U.S. Government, in the CIAA program, was entering a brand-new area of activity, although foreign Governments had been doing this sort of thing for years.

IT SOON BECAME apparent that the spread of Nazi aggression was the cause of Latin-America's basic problems, internally and otherwise. By the time the CIAA was created, the 20 nations were virtually dependent on the United States as a result of the blockade of Europe, which normally absorbed one-third of Latin-American exports and provided at least that amount of imports.

Rockefeller hoped the U.S. expanding programs of national defense might provide the key to meeting this increasingly-critical problem of supply and demand.

No matter how you say it
No matter what the sound
The meaning is the same
The whole darn world around.

Up and down Palm Canyon Drive as well as along all of the other main streets in the United States and other English-speaking countries. We're saying "Merry Christmas" this week.

TO THE WEST, about two and one half hours later, they'll be saying "Mele Kalikimaka." That's "Merry Christmas" in Hawaii.

Keep on going and you get to Indonesia. There they say "Selamat Hari-Natal."

Same thing. "Merry Christmas."

IN FACT, this week in as many languages as there are — almost — that phrase will be uttered.

Over in Tokio they'll be saying "Karimasa omedeto gozaimasu" on Thursday. Owing to the International Date Line, their Christmas will come almost a day ahead of ours.

Then you go down to Africa. They really go all out to wish you a Merry Christmas there.

IN SWAHILI language, they use five words and unless you are familiar with the language, you might think they were taking you apart verbally.

But they extend the season's greetings like this: "Siku kuu ya kalizuliwa Maslaya."

I'll bet that when the New Year comes in, few people will be able to pronounce that.

Although their "Happy New Year" may sound like it.

THEN YOU GET OVER to the continent. In England, of course, it's "Merry Christmas."

In France it's "Joyeux Noel." In Germany, "Froeliche Weihnachten."

In Italian, "Buon Natale," in Spain, "Feliz Navidad."

And in the Town and Country, Oscar Gilbert gives you the greeting of Sweden, Norway and Denmark, "God Jul."

Anyway, it all means the same thing and will be the universal greeting this week around the world.

STAN DELAPLANE:

Lonesome Pine

While my aching back was turned, while I was out toiling and slaving, a Christmas tree was purchased and brought into the house.

It has been pointed out to me for hours by trained decorators that this tree Does something for the house. Its price has been held up as part of its quality. I have been asked do I want to be a Scrooge? Do I want to SPOIL everybody's Christmas?

I AM UNYIELDING. "What's WRONG with the tree?" "It's not GREEN, blast it!"

HOW CAN YOU call a tree a Christmas tree when it is not green? When it is metallic bronze? Or pink? Or silver? I tell you, household ladies go wild about such trees.

THEY CAN PICTURE this metal monster gleaming in the living room (and blending just right with the andirons and that light we have in the corner, Joe, don't you see?) — the fact that all the gloves are one color intrigues them, too.

"Just this big splash of bronze with golden balls on it!"

WE CAME mighty close to having a pink tree with silver-colored globes. But we decided against it because it would clash with the dress we intend to wear Christmas Eve.

That is the way Christmas trees are chosen these days. When this cat's away at work. And all the mice get a surge of decorative instinct by reading a lot of lame-brain articles in the women's magazines: "Make Your Tree a Pageant of Christmas!"

WHAT HAS happened to the soft green Christmas tree we loved so well? The tree we hung with many-colored lights and many-colored balls?

The tree you sprayed with silver where you wanted it. A splash here, a splash there. A

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

A Free Education

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Cubic inch for cubic inch, the Senate's stately Caucus Room with its tall marble columns and pendant chandeliers is probably the best educational plant in the country. Nearly every calendar month brings there a great subject to be tried in public with a fair-to-middling assortment of brains on both sides of the table.

Nothing, I think, goes on here beyond the average intellect. Most of the subjects are homely, immediate and familiar, but they are illumined by searching, skillful and understandable discussions.

IN DECEMBER, with Congress away, we had two investigations which probed for truth in our times. Senator Kefauver presided over a continuation of his inquiry into "administered" prices, this time concerning the drug-making industry. And Senator Hennings set out to see whether basic Constitutional rights are being invaded by new technologies of wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping.

Estes Kefauver, as usual stalked his prey Indian-style — pokerfaced, taciturn, crafty, sinister. It is hard to see that Kefauver intends to give businessmen the assumption of innocence which the Constitution accords to far worse fellows than the steel, auto and pharmaceutical magnates who have faced this Subcommittee on Anti-Trust and Monopoly.

BUT CONGRESSIONAL hearings are not courts of law, and in my experience I can't recall a committee that ever learned anything by behaving as a court. All the House and Senate chairmen who made names as investigators have been aggressive and accusative, or else their staff operatives have been. This is the nature of the activity. Nothing comes out in Congressional hearings unless the head man is ardent for the "ketch" — or unless the victim turns and the biter gets bit.

Well, Chairman Kefauver and his chief economist, John M. Blair, conducted educational courses by showing all students how to make businessmen squirm, like the Biblical camel, through the eye of a testing needle. Unless they can make it, the businessmen leave the Caucus Room with a scarlet letter branded on their flanks.

Both Kefauver and his aides are rough on profit-makers. In 1938, when starting his career as a Government economic researcher, Dr. Blair wrote a book entitled: Seeds of Destruction — A Study in the Functional Weaknesses of Capitalism. Dr. Blair is very sensitive about the anti-capitalistic implications of this work. He is apt to say with slitted eyes that he retains very able lawyers for libel actions.

On May 17, 1957, he fired a warning shot across the bows of Donald I. Rogers, Business and Finance Editor of the New York Herald Tribune. Anybody who writes that Dr. Blair is a business advocate does so at his own risk.

DR. BLAIR'S self-appraisal, as given to me, is that he serves the anti-Marxian cause by trying to make little ones out of big ones, a form of business-busting which engenders competition, low prices and consumer benefits. Call it what you choose, the Kefauver subcommittee's work fits into some very plain writing on the wall. Today there are many forces in Labor and party politics which are hacking away at the structure of Democratic Capitalism. Today's educated American, man, boy or maid, is one who knows that this is going on. He may want to do something about it.

Thomas Hennings is not less opinionated than Kefauver, but is much more loquacious — so much so that the witnesses on Constitutional Rights in the age of technology make less wordage than the chairman. It's my own opinionated guess that these hearings, while not a museum example of biter-bite, may prove something which Senator Hennings never intended.

FOR EXAMPLE, Harold Lipset, a San Francisco private detective, whose inventory of electronic listener-in devices stands him $35,000 defended the ethical use of wiretapping. He was followed by Attorney Edward Bennett Williams, the East Coast's "Jerry Geisler," who charged the FBI and the McClellan Rackets Committee with unlawful use of wiretapping.

But while part of this was going on, I was off-stage with Mr. Lipset, the private eye, who made a point which the legalismos apparently missed. Wiretapping is the friend of man! It is the secret weapon of freedom and honesty! Such is the advance of small listening devices, Mr. Lipset said, that in a few years every policeman would be rigged with a walking radio transmitter, monitored at the station house. Interviewing reporters, of course, are already equipped with recording devices.

LETTERS

Editor, The Desert Sun
I am not connected with the Translator in any way, nor do I know anyone — Just the name Mr. Bennett, to whom I sent my check.

Most people, I'm sure, mean well but are prone to keep putting things off, and it doesn't matter to them one way or another, so if they knew the good they could do they would send it right in.

Children are out of school the 21st. I know of one family where the father is sick and the mother working, so they scratched up their money praying that it would come on soon so father could keep better control on the children.

I hadn't realized how much TV could mean until recently. When I came out of the hospital I couldn't see well, so of course cannot read at night. There must be many shut-ins who are worse off than I am.

So what could give a nicer Christmas feeling than to pay off an obligation and be helping so many others to have the TV earlier? Please try.

Second Annual Deb Ball at Tennis Club

Three lovely Palm Springs High School girls who will ride on the Palm Springs float in the Rose Parade on New Years Day were selected Friday night at the Second Annual Deb Ball at the Tennis Club. Chosen from the thirty Debs were Leeann Howard, Jean Morrison and Mary Ann Roberts.

Chosen by a secret committee, the three girls, one wearing a swim suit, one in tennis clothes, and one dressed for golfing, will stand in the oasis of pool and palm trees at the front of the "Pegleg" float, that is being built from a Disney Studio design.

The Debs and their escorts and parents were invited to the Ball, which is given by the Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors the Debs. Co-chairmen of Ball arrangements were Joan McManus and Mrs. Edward Conby, Deb Patronesses, who with the other Patronesses, Mrs. William Otto, Mrs. Payne Jennings, Mrs. Stewart Williams and Mrs. Arthur Coffey, were in the receiving line.

It is at this holiday Ball that the Debs receive their pins. Presented first were the Senior Debs, who had received their pins last Christmas. Each girl was escorted forward by her father, or substitute father, to receive her pin. After the big semi-circle of girls and their fathers were photographed, there was the Father-Daughter Dance, and then all the junior girls and their fathers left the floor so that the judges might make final choices for the float.

In welcoming the guests to the Tennis Club, Joan McManus also expressed the regret of Tennis Club owner Mrs. Austin McManus that she was unable to be present, as she has flown to Switzerland for the holidays.

Cliff Brown of the Chamber of Commerce introduced several special guests, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Cooper of the Chamber of Commerce, Councilwoman Ruth Hardy, City Manager Dan Wagner, Martin Beck, Float Association vice president and the Debs Honorary Adviser Hildy Crawford, who introduced the Patronesses.

Mayor Frank Bogert emceed the presentation of the Debs. The Tennis Club was beautifully decorated, with poinsettias in the flower cart by the entrance and decorating the tall white tree. Outside the big windows flanking the fireplace, a small Santa Claus could be seen on the mountain side.

Petit fours laced in Christmas red and green and decorated with holly leaves and berries, bore the word "Debs" and were served with punch. Mint wafers and nuts were also served.

Over the dance floor hung an enlarged replica of the Deb pin, as the Debs and their dates danced to the dreamy music of Tony Rose and his orchestra.

Palm Springs Debs are: Maria Marmolejo, president; Meme Magee, 1st vice president; Pam Raphael, 2nd vice president; Diane DeWitt, secretary; and Jean Morrison, treasurer; Cindy Bogert, Barbara Bynum, Lynn Gilligan, Judie Hall, Karen Hanson, Sandy Heuck, Susan Hovey, Leeann Howard, Marie Jambretz, Diane Jennings, Rollin Levin, Mary McLaughlin, Bobbie Meyers, Sheila O'Byrne, Patty Pitzner, Jean Plyler, Niki Pollack, Harriet Portney, Barbara Rech, Barbara Rechin, Mary Ann Roberts, Sheila Russell, Sally Stephens, Gloria Jean Tonne, Frederica Warner.

White Robed Choir Carols at School Christmas Party

The December meeting of the Katherine Finchy P-TA was highlighted by the gay youthful voices of the school chorus under the direction of Miss Wilcox. The group registered well the time and effort that had gone into rehearsals and the presentation beginning with "Oh, Come All Ye Faithful" and ending with "Joy to the World," included 11 of the most loved Christmas carols. The group was costumed in white choir robes with red bows and the holiday songs were equally enjoyed by the participating group and the many parents attending.

The flag ceremony was conducted by Miss Brennan's sixth grade boys and the invocation given by Rev. James Blackstone of the Community Church.

The short business meeting included unanimous approval of presentation in January of an honorary Life Membership, which is a Founder's Day tradition, the money going to scholarships. Program chairman Mrs. Gerald Forstvedt announced that the District Founder's Day program will be held in Palm Springs and all members were urged to attend, with specific dates to be announced later.

Festive refreshments of cake, cookies, punch and coffee were provided by the P-TA board and served from gaily decorated tables.

Important on the agenda was an expression of gratitude from the membership of the P-TA in the presentation of a check to each teacher. The money will be used to purchase items of use for each room.

The beautiful two and a half million dollar Eldorado Country Club was a picture postcard scene Saturday night . . . as it held its informal opening . . . Vari-colored lights played on the spectacular fountains that leaped and flowed away . . . awing arriving guests . . . Indoors was the simplicity of a 12-foot tree . . . pure white and trimmed with golden ornaments . . . so that the holiday decorations did not detract from the beauty of the clubhouse itself . . . From indoors . . . the view of the lighted palm trees on the fairways was breath taking too . . . There was a buffet and dancing to the music of Eddy Grady . . .

Velma Dawson had invited friends for cocktails at their Eldorado home . . . before going on to the clubhouse for the dinner dance . . . and the cocktail party was a surprise birthday party for husband John . . . The Dawson's guests included the Dolph Oberfels, Joe Froggatts, George Wheelers and James Malones . . .

Around one hundred were in attendance . . . including the Randolph Scotts, Ernest Clarks, Charles Wilpans, Robert McCullochs . . . the William Codys, Earl Buckinghams, Richard Hincleys . . . Clarence Browns, Donald Gordons, Dr. and Mrs. M. W. Howard, Joseph Davises, Clinton Elliotts . . . and, of course, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hines . . .

There was a Scotch Mixed Four-some at the Club on Sunday . . . and plans are being made for Eldorado's first New Years Eve party . . .

Bigger than life-sized figures form the Nativity Scene in front of Vivian Davies' Aquanetta Circle home . . . and the well-lighted scene with Christmas carols playing . . . surprised guests arriving for her black tie Christmas party on Sunday evening . . . Inside a ceiling high Christmas tree occupied a corner of the livingroom . . . in the hallway was a gilded leaf tree . . . and in the boudoir was a crystal tree holding pink carnations on its boughs . . .

Another surprise was the arrival of a robed sextette . . . headed by Harry Tomlinson . . . who sang Christmas carols . . .

Pappy Landfield . . . who catered the party . . . had a surprise too . . . when the sprinkles started and he had to move his tables of hors d'oeuvres under the porch roof . . . Lighted red candles and an arrangement of red carnations decorated the tables . . . which were loaded with silver platters of attractive hors d'oeuvres . . . and later with huge chafing dishes for the dinner . . . which was accompanied by Piper Heidsieck . . .

Guests included the Ken Kirks and Vicki Malouf with daughter Carol . . . who were just back from the city where they attended a big party the night before . . . The Dolph Oberfels, Earl Hendersons, Walt Sibberts, John Costellos . . . Turner Clacks, Peg and Norm Waters, Co Thorntons, Bruce Gears of Indio . . . Ed Robbins, Hugh Carpenters, Ed McCoubrey . . . Winsome Courtney, Ray Ryan, Bob Simons, Joan McManus, Alan Maclean, Jessie Baumgardner . . . Maj-General and Mrs. Victor Bertrandias, Edward Totoonchie, Marjorie Pohl, Jack Fugitt, Bob Street of San Diego . . . Mr. and Mrs. Victor Van Ness of Los Angeles . . .

Jan King (she isn't going to Alaska with Hope . . . but is staying home for a family Christmas), her brother and his wife with the Perry Kruideniers who are here for Christmas, and sister Pat Wright. The Richard Manns (Vivian's son) and their three children . . . who are here for the Christmas holidays . . . and another houseguest Lt. Harry Mathis USN . . .

Sam and Dixie Janis invited about 100 friends to drop in for "Christmas Skool" Sunday evening . . . and no one had any difficulty finding the Janis' hilltop home on Cielo Drive . . . for it is brilliantly outlined in Christmas colored lights and easily seen from downtown . . .

Tex Kidwell was there . . . playing his guitar and leading the caroling . . . Written in white mica on the big mirror at one end of the livingroom was the message . . . "Skool . . . We toast your health with love" . . . and big Sam and beautiful red-haired Dixie in a Christmas green chiffon were welcoming their guests warmly . . .

There was a table of hot and cold hors d'oeuvres in the diningroom . . . and a bar dispensed Christmas skools . . . A tall white Christmas tree stood on the lanai and the view of the lights of Palm Springs down below is one of the most delightful in the Village . . . The new Palm Springs Riviera adds new lustre to the lights . . .

John Connors was there (now don't forget that piece of the blarney stone you brought back from Ireland for me, John) . . . the Jerry Sanborns (everyone's admiring Louisa's new hair do) . . . the Leonard Wolfs, Ted McKinney, Phyllis and Dan Flax . . . Lynne Jennings and Bill Webb, Polly Isenagie and Trixie Jarrette, Harold Hicks . . . Tommy and Gordon Brown, Mac McDonald . . . I know we missed a lot of guests who came afterwards . . . but we said "Merry Christmas" to Elsinore Machris who was arriving as we left for the Vivian Davies party . . .

There was a Scotch Mixed Four-some at the Club on Sunday . . . and plans are being made for Eldorado's first New Years Eve party . . .

Cathedral Woman's Club Holds Party

The mountain home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Greener in Pinon Flats was the setting for the Christmas party of the Cathedral City Woman's Club. The warm sunshine of the day with strolls through the tall pinon pines, was followed by an especially prepared turkey dinner. A Christmas tree with gifts exchanged brought many words of appreciation from the club members.

Mrs. Otto Paulsen, president, held a short business meeting and gave a report on the many community interests that the club has made a part of its Christmas spirit. The decorated tree in the Cathedral City post office, the large tree in the triangle of the village, a community tree, became a definite part of their efforts shared with the Junior Woman's Club. There were other gifts that satisfied special needs of those less fortunate—all brought that feeling of pride to the membership. To Mrs. Emil Greener, Mrs. Willard R. Hillery, Mrs. Claude Cobb and Mrs. Russell Hewitson who gave so much time to the preparation of the dinner, much praise was given for the success of their culinary efforts.

Mrs. Claude Yerkes, chairman of the Christmas party, expressed to all an appreciation for the true Christmas spirit that made the party a real success; to Mr. and Mrs. Emil Greener, host and hostess, who so graciously opened their mountain home, a standing vote of appreciation was given.

If berry, fruit or wine spots soil your best white cotton, linen or synthetic tablecloth at holiday time, don't waste a minute. While the stained portion is still damp, stretch it over a bowl and pour boiling water through it from a height of 2 to 3 feet. Use a household bleach solution to remove any stain remaining.

Racquet Club Gets Ready for Gala Holiday Season

Commencing on Christmas Day and continuing until the end of the season (mid May), Teddy Noell and his orchestra will be playing nightly (except Mondays) at the Racquet Club.

Adorning the club are traditional decorations, the focal point of which is an exciting "ornature" created by artist John Morris. Melodious music, gourmet delights and good cheer will abound at the club over the Christmas holiday, attracting numerous guests from near and far.

Among those who plan to spend the Yuletide there are Mr. and Mrs. Seymour A. Cooperman of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert W. Coleman and family from Chicago (he's president of the Seeburg Corp.), David Vicktor of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sale and their three children from Los Angeles.

Many more guests are arriving to spend both the Christmas and New Years holidays. From the Los Angeles area, there will be Mr. and Mrs. Lester Linsk (Beverly Hills), Messrs. Bruce Hummerstone and Alexander Hall (Beverly Hills), Mr. and Mrs. Milton J. Stevens and family, and Dorothy (Mrs. James J.) Needleman (West LA).

Flying and training out from Chicago will be Mr. and Mrs. Sidney B. Korshak and family, Sol Gould, Miss Leah Morrison (she's with J. Walter Thompson), and Sam Houston.

O. Henry Story

'Cop and Anthem' Set for Skelton

Red Skelton will present for the fourth time a special adaptation of O. Henry's classic Christmas story, "The Cop and The Anthem," on "The Red Skelton Show," Tuesday, Dec. 22 (The CBS Television Network, 9:30-10 p.m., p.s.t.).

Special guest on this program will be Allen Jenkins, who will be seen as Freddie's sad-faced tramp friend, Mugsy. This program will be a taped re-broadcast.

AS DID O. Henry's tramp character, Freddie the Freeloader seeks shelter from the cold winter streets of New York on the day before Christmas. His plan is to get thrown into jail. He ignores Mugsy's suggestion that they ride the rods to warm, sunny Florida.

Freddie figures that 90 days in the calaboose will serve his purpose — but unsuccessful — plans to accomplish his mission. It takes a perfectly innocent gesture to turn the trick.

OTHERS IN THE cast include Irene Tedrow and Pierre Watkin as the Middle-aged Couple; Jimmy Cross plays the Sinister Man; Maurice Marsac as the Waiter; Gavin Gordon as the Manager; Gil Stuart as Man with Umbrella; Ernie Rabbitt as the Storekeeper; Louise Arthur as the Saleswoman; Jan Arvan as the Jeweler; James Burke, Tom Dillon and Ray Kellogg as the three Cops; Mary Treen as the Girl; Ricky Kellman as the Choir Boy; and Allen Lee as the Driver.

Featured on the broadcast will be the Mitchell Boys' Choir, whose singing helps Freddie the Freeloader in his plan to get inside the jail.

"The Cop and The Anthem" was adapted for Red Skelton from O. Henry's story by Sherwood Schwartz and Jesse Goldstein. Music is by David Rose and the orchestra.

Seymour Berns directs the show, which is produced by Cecil Baker.

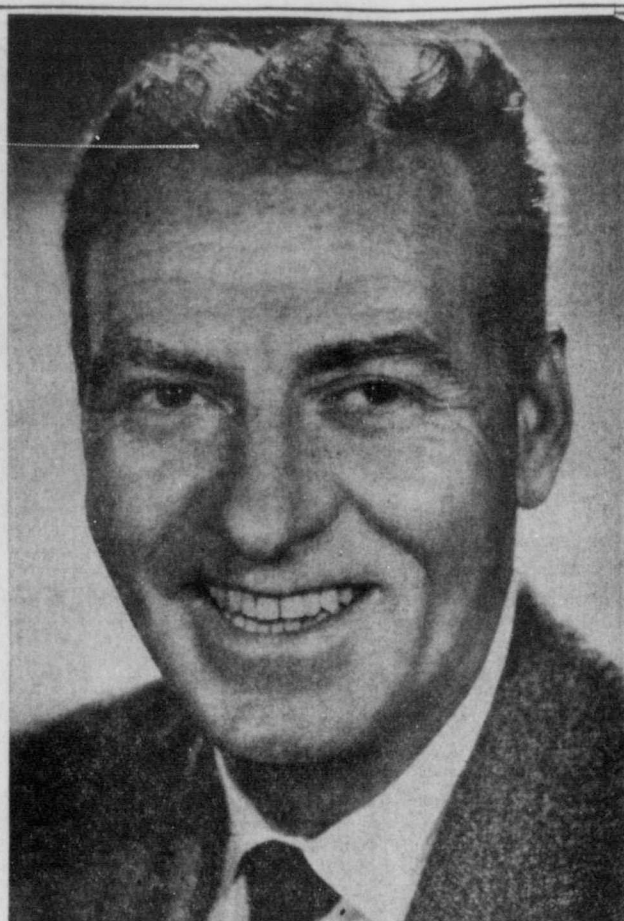

Political Ring Frame Fails

Mike Connors conspires with crooked majority candidate Harry Brockton (Kent Taylor) to frame an honest mayor in attempt to expose a political ring connected with the underworld. In "The Neon Wheel" on "Tightrope!" Tuesday, Dec. 22 (CBS Television Network, 9:30 p.m., p.s.t.).

Michael Connors stars as a nameless undercover police officer. Featured in the cast are Kent Taylor as Harry Brockton, Barbara Lawrence as Ann, Nancy Hadley as Lucille, Grandon Rhodes as the Mayor, and Robert Nash as the Police Chief.

'Wanderlust' Goes to Japan

Bill Burrud's "Wanderlust" travels to Japan for the story of Christmas there in "Sleighbells in Japan," Tuesday, Dec. 22, 7:30 p.m., KCOP, Channel 13.

THE GILLIS FAMILY faces a gloomy Christmas when Herbert Gillis, above, gets himself thrown in jail on Christmas Eve in "Deck the Halls," on the CBS Television Network's comedy series, "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis," Tuesday, Dec. 22 (8:30-9 p.m., p.s.t.). Unable to cope with the behavior of his family and customers during the holiday season, Mr. Gillis loses his Christmas spirit and decides to spend a few solitary days in jail. Dwayne Hickman stars as Dobie Gillis. Featured are Frank Paylen as Herbert Gillis, Florida Friebus as Winifred Gillis, and Bob Denver as Maynard Krebs. Darryl Hickman plays Davey Gillis, and Verna Felton portrays Mrs. Lapping.

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

CARTOON-BASED SERIES SUCCESS

By FRED DANZIG
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — One successful cartoon-based family series deserves another, I suppose.

Sunday night, CBS-TV's G. E. Theater, presumably noting the TV success of Dennis the Menace — presented Crockett Johnson's old cartoon characters, Mr. O'Malley and Barnaby in a half-hour color-cast written by Louis Pelletier.

BERT LAHR starred as the winged, cigar-smoking, fumbling fairy godfather, Mr. O'Malley, and Ronny Howard was his little pal, Barnaby. The approach was slowed by a schmaltz — slipper path, but in general, it succeeded in showing off a refreshing, perky spirit.

I especially enjoyed the sight of Lahr as he flapped around, or grumbled about nose cones and rockets in his flight path, or the utter unpredictability and unreliability of leprechauns. "When you want a leprechaun, you never can find it," he snorted.

BUT THE PRIZE line went to Barnaby, who told an uninitiated little friend, "people will think you're goofy if you go around imagining you don't see things." Although master Howard was strident and Dody Goodmanish at times, the videotape was badly corrugated and the saccharine was mishandled, I'll go on record as pro-O'Malley anytime he wants to fly around again.

THE TIME-HONORED cry of "we'll head 'em off at the pass," rang out Sunday night as part of another tongue-in-cheek Maverick episode called "A Cure For Johnny Rain."

In this ABC-TV hour, Jim Garner discovered that a town's best-loved male citizen — fellow named Johnny Rain — became a low-down highway robber when soaked. After Garner captured this Jekyll-Hyde character, no one in town wanted to punish the lovable bandit.

UP TO THE three-quarter mark, the plot was suitably entertaining, breezy and easy-to-take. But writer Leonard Praskins seemed to run out of gimmicks at that point and finished off with some standard western flourishes and some puzzling exits that only diluted the show's quality.

Some advance publicity said this episode would be a satire of "Dragnet." If it was the case — and I think it was a press agent's blunder — then Mr. Praskins never saw Jack Webb in action.

DIALING AND FILING: Two special events shows on NBC-TV Sunday night — led by Chet Huntley and Frank McGee, respectively — seemed to borrow from CBS-TV's new habit of explaining everything in a "moment of truth."

Both men took pains to explain how and when the newsmagazines and tapes were made.

On Saturday, ABC-TV presented an hour — long documentary, "Christmas and Christianity in a Shrinking World." Produced by Yale University, it was informative and thought-provoking, although somewhat amateurish in many of its production values.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Sunday Workshop, the CBS-TV series that will feature new talent in original TV works, makes its debut on Jan. 24, from 9 to 9:55 a.m. (p.s.t.). Vacation replacements for NBC-TV's Jack Paar: Arlene Francis for the first week, starting Dec. 28; Joey Bishop for the week of Jan. 4.

The public affairs programs that replace NBC-TV's Five Fingers starting Saturday, Jan. 23, will come in under the title of World Wide 60.

Only Two Players To Pick

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — College basketball is barely under way today and yet there is speculation as to only two places on the All-America team which will be chosen at the end of the long campaign ahead.

Three of the places already are nailed down, according to the round ball experts. These, it is said, belong definitely to West Virginia's Jerry West, Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson and Ohio State's Jerry Lucas.

But it looks like a dog fight all the way through until the snow melts for those other two spots with the current front runners being Darrell Imhoff of California and Tom Sanders of NYU.

STOPPING ROBERTSON seemingly is as impossible as outpiling the Broadway limited with a pair of Missouri mules. The "Wonderful O" started off averaging 43 points per game and appears destined to accomplish the heretofore unaccomplished feat of waltzing off with a third straight national scoring championship. It's a payoff for the 6-5 jumping jack for not turning professional, which most of his rivals devoutly wish he had.

West, the colossus from Cabin Creek, apparently is the jumping-off 6-3 basketball player since kangaroos were outlawed. He has been averaging "only" 24.8 points per game but he is the wheel-horse for West Virginia. As example, he suffered a broken nose Saturday night but then ignored the bent beak to pour in 33 points and pace the Mountaineers to a 79-70 victory over Kentucky — at Kentucky. This is akin to selling electric blankets to Samoans.

LUCAS, THE AMBLING ALP from Ohio State, although only a sophomore, is living up to the whispered billing which has been his for several years. He was the nation's most sought after high school player two years ago and the Buckeyes kept him under wraps as a freshman. But they finally have cut loose his 6-9 frame and he is flipping in an average of 26 points a game.

Imhoff and Sanders at the moment are running out front in search of the other two "all" berths but they'll get a long run from such as Tony Jackson of St. John's, Bill Lickert of Kentucky, Bill Kennedy of Temple, Bob Nordmann of St. Louis, John Egan of Providence and York Larese of North Carolina.

IMHOFF is the young gentleman of 6-10 who led California to the NCAA championship last year. He accomplished this by defending Robertson, a task comparable to halting a Sherman tank with a snowball. His talents meanwhile are said to have improved.

Sanders, the NYU generator, only shot a 21 point average in his first four games but this was upped considerably Saturday with a 40 point spree against Denver.

Wilhelm Leader in 2 Loops

CHICAGO (UPI) — Knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm of the Baltimore Orioles today officially became the only pitcher in history ever to compile the top earned run average in both the American and National Leagues.

The 36-year-old Wilhelm won his first earned run title with the New York Giants in 1952 with a 2.43 mark. And he was the best in the American League last season with a 2.19 percentage, according to official averages released here by the Howe News Bureau.

Wilhelm, who had a 15-11 record last season, yielded only 55 earned runs in 226 innings to beat out runner Camilo Pascual of Washington. Pascual had a 2.64 earned run mark and a 17-10 record.

Bob Shaw of the White Sox finished third with 2.69. Art Ditmar of the Yankees fourth with 2.90 and Jerry Walker of the Orioles fifth with 2.92. All five are right-handers.

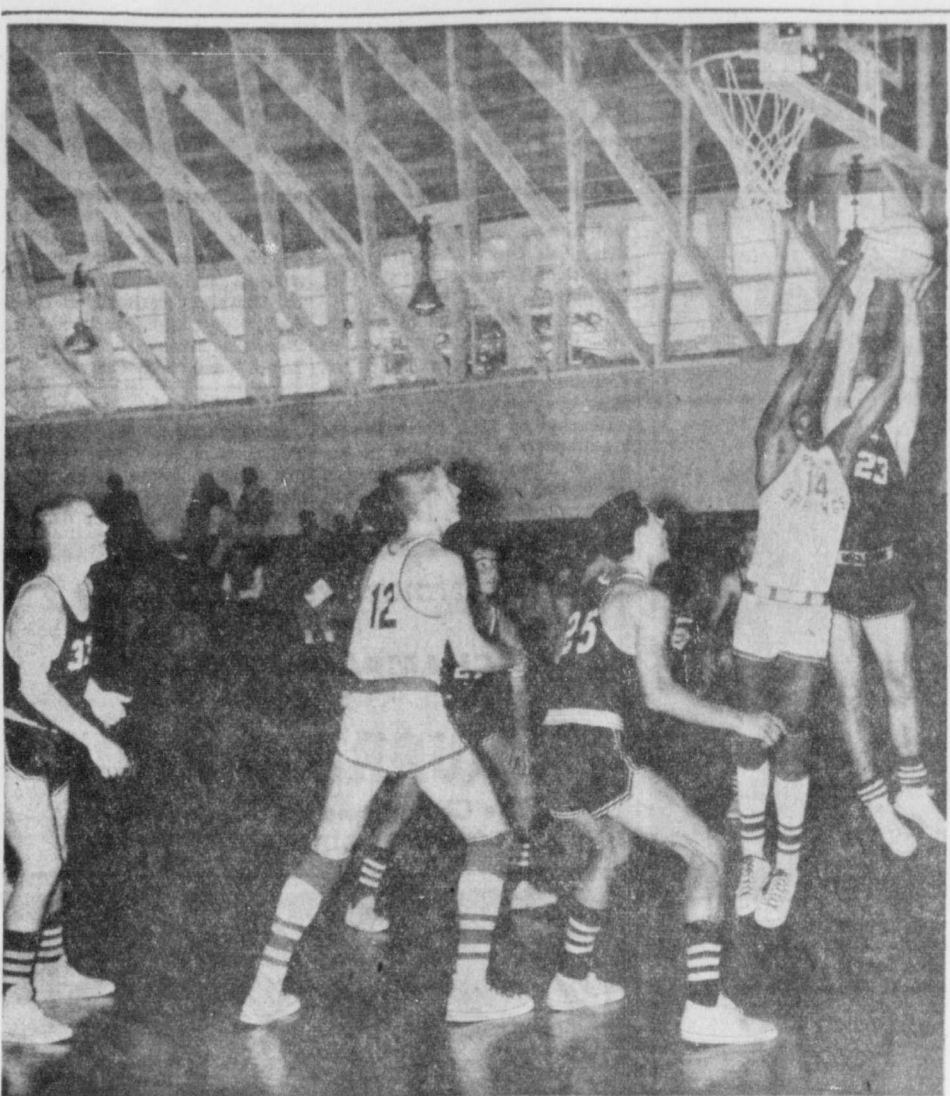

Trojans to Battle Hawaii Tonight In Loyola Gym

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The University of Southern California Trojans battle Hawaii tonight in a basketball game at the Loyola gym.

The Trojans will be returning to action for the first time since beating Brigham Young and Oklahoma State nearly two weeks ago, and most observers weren't expecting them to have too much trouble with the Hawaiian Rainbows.

The visitors, after winning the first three of their games on the islands, have gone 2-7 on their West Coast tour.

The two teams will meet again tomorrow night.

METZINGER (23) of Tustin is foiled by Gus Walton (14) of Palm Springs as he goes for two points in last night's game at the Banning Holiday tournament which the Indians lost in a squeaker, 39-41. Joe Jones, (12) Hernandez, (35) and Monroy, (33) are in on the play. (Desert Sun Photo).

SANTA ANITA TO OPEN SILVER JUBILEE SEASON SATURDAY

Santa Anita Park ushers in its "Silver Jubilee" thoroughbred racing season next Saturday with what is being hailed as the greatest opening day program in its 25-year history. For the first time there will be the double attraction of the $25,000 California Breeders' Trial Stakes at seven furlongs and the $20,000 Palos Verdes Handicap at six furlongs. Past Santa Anita openers have offered only one stake.

With favorable weather, the attendance seems assured to pass last year's 57,094 and may approach the all-time first day's high of 65,542 set in 1949. Gates open at 11 a.m. with the first race starting at 1 p.m.

NATIONAL INTEREST is centered on Warfare, who is to start in the Breeders' Trial to try for additional fame and fortune. The gray-coated son of Determine (1954 Santa Anita Derby winner), bred in Riverside and owned by the Bellehurst Stable of Clifton S. Jones, has already swept the nation-wide polls as the champion juvenile of 1959, and needs only a couple of thousand to add to his $304,610 earnings to pass First Landing's national record.

Opposing Warfare will be the greatest field of 2-year-old California ever to race here. The list of probable starters includes T. V. Lark (winner of $212,000 Arlington Futurity), Noble Noor ($163,850 Hollywood Juvenile), Azure's Orphan (Del Mar Futurity), Eagle Admiral (Golden Gate Futurity) and others.

Art Wall Enters $100,000 Desert Classic Tourney

The 1959 "Golf of the Year," Art Wall Jr., has accepted a bid to play in the $100,000 Palm Springs Desert Classic, set Feb. 3-7, Chairman Milt Hicks announced today.

Wall was a runaway victor as golf's brightest star of 1959. The articulate Pocono Manor, Pa., swinger captured money winning honors for the year with earnings of well over $50,000.

Wall's victories included the coveted Masters and a pair of $50,000 events — the Bing Crosby and Buick Opens.

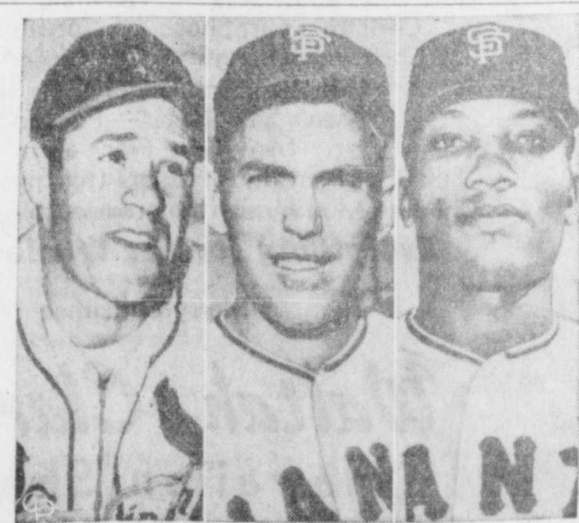

Wall was the first golfer ever to win more than $50,000 without winning the former George May "World" tournament, which gave its winner $50,000.

The Desert Classic, the world's richest tournament, will be played over four courses — Indian Wells, Tamarisk, Thunderbird and Bermuda Dunes. It is a 90-hole affair.

Season ticket prices for all five days of play are $10, individual daily admission tab $3.

Cincy Still Top Cage Team in Coaches' Poll

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cincinnati remained No. 1 in United Press International's major college basketball ratings today for the third straight week but West Virginia replaced Ohio State in second place.

Ohio State slipped to third while California remained fourth. St. Louis was fifth, Utah sixth, Bradley seventh, Georgia Tech eighth, Kansas ninth and Indiana 10th.

Georgia Tech, moving up from 12th, and Indiana, which advanced from 11th, were the newcomers in the top 10. North Carolina dropped from fifth to 11th and Southern California slipped from 10th to 11th in the latest balloting by the United Press International Board of Coaches.

THE 35-LEADING COACHES who rate the major schools for UPI based their latest votes on games played through Saturday night, Dec. 19. The top four teams boasted perfect records through that date.

North Carolina headed the second 10 group. Kentucky, New York University, Villanova, Southern California, Texas A&M, Iowa, Illinois, Michigan State and Notre Dame rounded out the first 20 in that order.

Each coach votes for 10 teams in the order he ranks them nationally. Points are awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first through 10th place.

CINCINNATI received 20 first-place votes and a total of 327 points, four less than last week. West Virginia, which drew only two first-place votes and 252 points last week, received eight first-place votes and 308 points. West Virginia picked up the additional support because of its impressive triumph over Kentucky Saturday night in the final of the Kentucky Invitation tournament at Lexington, Ky.

Ohio State received two first-place votes and 264 points. California drew the other five first-place votes and 247 points.

St. Louis received 138 points and Utah was close behind with 137. Bradley received 111. The last three teams in the top 10 were separated by only two points. Georgia Tech drew 47, Kansas 46 and Indiana 45. North Carolina, in 11th place, was close behind Indiana with 43.

Renew Attempt To Stage Heavy Title Rematch

NEW YORK (UPI) — Attorney Roy Cohn and associates plan to meet again today with Bill Rosensohn in their attempt to buy his one-third interest in Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., and clear the way for promoting the return Ingemar Johansson - Floyd Patterson heavyweight title fight next summer.

Little progress was made at Monday night's conference with Rosensohn, who reportedly asked more for his stock than the Cohn group deemed reasonable.

The new organization of wealthy New York businessmen purchased two-thirds of the stock in Rosensohn Enterprises last week from Vincent J. Vellella, a Harlem politician. Vellella's selling price reportedly was $150,000.

Rosensohn, who had been asking $75,000 for his one-third reportedly boosted the price Monday night.

HOME-TOWNERS SEEM TO BE IN

Activity Resumed by West Coast Cagers

By RICK TALLEY, United Press International

West Coast cagers resume action tonight in regional and intersectional clashes—and unless somebody changes the form sheet, the home-town "have it made."

Tonight's key intersectional games find Stanford invading Marquette, Santa Clara at Connecticut and Washington's Huskies hosting Northwestern.

Monday night's basketball bill featured a full schedule of cross-country tilts, but the UCLA Bruins were the only "travelers" to emerge victorious, as they nipped Minnesota, 73-72.

WISCONSIN's young squad took a squeaker from Stanford at Madison, 60-59; and a scrappy Providence College team snapped a three game losing streak to edge the touring Santa Clara Broncos, 62-60. Creighton whipped Seattle, 77-70.

Coast fives at home fared better, with Oregon State defeating Nebraska, 67-65, and the University of Washington pounding Northwestern's Wildcats, 79-60.

College of Pacific's Ken Stanley hit a 15-foot jump shot with six seconds left to give the Tigers an away - from - home win at Idaho State, 57-55, but in other regional tilts, home-town form held true.

ARIZONA STATE UNIVERSITY won its 19th straight home tilt by beating Washington State, 94-70; Oregon's Ducks toyed with San Jose State, 56-41; and San Francisco State toppled San Diego State 66-59.

In other regional action, Westmont of Santa Barbara downed Humboldt State, 53-48; Idaho pulled a home-floor upset against Utah State, 57-56; and Long Beach State buried visiting Nevada, 82-57. Western Washington tamed Ricks of Idaho, 75-70.

Wisconsin's pesky Badgers, not regarded as Big Ten title contenders this season, used a stall to preserve their win against Stanford's Indians. Stanford captain John Arrillaga led two rallies that put Stanford ahead, 60-59, with less than three minutes to play, but Wisconsin's Marty Garrity put the winner and the Badgers put on the freeze.

UCLA fought off a late-stage Minnesota rally at Minneapolis to gain its one - point victory. UCLA jumped to an early lead and never trailed, although the Gophers almost closed the gap several times. Minnesota center and captain, Ron Johnson, led scorers with 27 markers. Cliff Brandon tallied 15 for the UCLA'NS.

Oregon controlled both backboards at Eugene while hammering the San Jose Spartans. Nine Ducks scored in the contest, with Charlie Warren and Dennis Strickland hitting 12 and 11 respectively.

Badgers Hold Serious Drill At Pasadena

Closed Session Staged by Bruhn For Big 10 Team

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Wisconsin's football forces, hoping to get Washington off to a miserable New Year in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1, held a closed two-hour workout this morning before touring a film studio.

It was the second serious drill coach Milt Bruhn's charges have undergone since arriving here last week.

The Badgers held their first practice sessions Monday. Today's drills were opened to the public and photographers.

Monday, minus prying eyes, coach Bruhn worked on what should be one of Wisconsin's fortes, line play. The Badgers are loaded in the interior line with Big Ten bruisers Dan Linphar and Jerry Stalcup used to trampling opposition linemen so often they look like waffles.

The team concentrated mostly on defending Washington plays, as reserves Ronnie Van Der Kline and Tom Mettlich played the role of Washington's Bob Schloredt, the Huskies' one-eyed wizard.

In the afternoon session, Wisconsin donned its game uniforms and following an hour of posing and running through formations for photographers, they spent another half hour of light work by specialists before calling it a day.

Defensive Battle Looms for Jan. 1

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — For a game that features two headline-grabbing quarterbacks — Bob Schloredt of Washington and Dale Hackbart of Wisconsin — the Jan. 1 Rose Bowl just might be a defensive battle between two energetic lines.

While Wisconsin stressed defensive line play in Pasadena Monday, coach Jim Owens of the Huskies worked his young squad on defense on a rain - mottled field at Veterans' Memorial Stadium.

Using knowledge from game films, Owens and his staff worked at setting up defenses against the Big Ten Badgers.

Washington, which turned down a chance to work indoors Monday at a pier building at Long Beach harbor, will go through a scrimmage Thursday to put its newly-acquired knowledge of the Badger attack to test.

It will be the Huskies' first full contact drill since arriving from Seattle last Friday.

After Monday's two-hour session, the team toured Revue Motion Picture Studios and dined on prime rib at Lawry's on Los Angeles "Restaurant Row."

Kline Traded for Cimoli and Cheney

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Right-hander Ronnie Kline, who posed a pitch me or trade me option to the Pittsburgh Pirates last summer, was St. Louis-bound today in exchange for an outfielder and another pitcher.

Pittsburgh shed Kline to the Cardinals Monday for outfielder Gino Cimoli and right-hander Tom Cheney.

THE LIVELY ARTS

Esky Best Buy for Readers

By GEORGE LAINE

Stumped for a last-minute Christmas gift that isn't going to need a Time Plan to negotiate it? Try the December issue of Esquire Magazine (still billed, somewhat erroneously, as "the magazine for men") which—at $1—is just about the best buy you'll find in literature for the holiday season.

WHO SAYS?

The weight of the material within its 382 pages says, that's who. And it says more.

Captured by Esquire in this annual yule literary endeavor are an anthology of authors such as you'll seldom see arrayed together in one journal.

THERE IS FICTION by William Faulkner, Arthur Miller and Alberto Moravia. There is a raft of articles—some short—some not so short—by the likes of Joseph Wechsberg and Alfred Knopf. There is a Sean O'Casey play (plus a Shaw thing called "Un Petit Drame," supposed to be his first) and satire by the bucketful and even a poem by Emperor Hirohito. A series of illustrations, from an ancient prayer-book, detail the Birth of Christ and are easily worth the cost of the magazine alone.

IF YOU'RE NOT the serious type, however, there is an M.J. Arlen treatise on "Peaceful Uses Of the Hydrogen Bomb"—I think that's the correct title—that may have an impact or two on your philosophy as well as your funny bone.

THE AMOUNT OF worthy reading within the covers of Esquire might cause a reflection or two. It hasn't been any too long a period of time—I can recall distinctly—since Esquire saddled itself with the responsibility of detailing the rough and rigorous life of sex for all mankind.

Then came Playboy and perhaps through economic necessity, although I believe not—Esquire sought a new presentation.

IT MIGHT HAVE been interesting to have watched Esquire and Playboy engage in a battle to determine which publication could unveil the most bosom (or derriere, as the case might be).

Fortunately for the readers in our midst this did not come to pass. Instead, candlelighters are now able to procure a bedside Atlantic.

If you have to start with this Christmas edition, don't worry about your tardiness. Just be pleased you've caught up with the new, the worthy Esquire.

Damone 'Tasty' In Chi Chi Show

Vir Damone, Lenny Kent, Ginny Tiu, Bill Alexander and His Chi Chi Orchestra. Two shows nightly (8:45 and 11:45 p.m.) in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi Club.

As Lenny Kent points out in the current show at the Chi Chi Starlite Room, most of the ranking singers in show business today are Italian.

"There is," declares Lenny, "Como, Sinatra, Tony Bennett, Dean Martin and—" he beckons to the wings — "Vic Damone."

IT IS AT THIS point that the current Chi Chi show begins, Kent and Ginny Tiu not withstanding.

Damone does more things on mike in one Chi Chi show than most singers do in a lifetime. Some may say that this is what Vic gets paid for but I'm prompted to maintain that Damone goes a seven league step above and beyond the demands of any non-tract he may have signed for the Starlite Room.

First of all, there is the matter of taste in selection of material. Then there is the additional matter of crowd contact and audience appeal. You'll have to give Damone five stars in all respects.

THE SONGS HE SELECTS run a gamut from ballads ("Bewitched, Bothered and Bewildered") to swingers ("At Long Last Love") to stolen hits of other singers (Mathis' "Small World") to show tunes (a set from Porgy and Bess and the indefinably sensitive "Maria" from West Side Story).

The Damone method of presentation, however, is what sets him off as an exception to whatever rules you've made up about singers.

He relaxes with his work and, it follows, the audience also relaxes.

WEBB SINGS ROLES IN REDLANDS OPERA

REDLANDS — Robert Webb of Palm Springs sang a principal role in the recent University of Redlands' Opera Workshop production of Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman."

Three performances of the opera were presented in which Webb sang the roles of Lindorf, Coppellus, Dappertutto and Miracole.

of Hoffman's three loves. Original costumes and hairstyles were designed for the production, in which more than 38 students participated. Last year, the University of Redlands Opera Workshop presented "Abduction from the Seraglio," "Trouble in Tahiti," and "The Concert."

3-Point Plan For Arabian Costume Told

Committee Seeks
All Date Festival
Workers Costumed

A concerted effort will be made to get everyone into Arabian dress during February, Mrs. M. A. Cotter, chairman of an Arabian costume committee of the Indio Chamber of Commerce, said today.

A three-point program has been outlined to stimulate interest in this project.

FOLLOWING THE holidays, a committee plans to contact every Coachella Valley resident by telephone to suggest they dust out their Far Eastern duds.

A local service organization has been asked to operate a "costume bar." The idea will be to have local residents take costumes they no longer use, or parts of them, to a central location where they can be sold or exchanged for others. New costumes also will be available.

A FASHION SHOW and display of patterns also has been suggested, Mrs. Cotter said.

Every day during the National Date Festival, Feb. 12 through 22, someone in attendance at the fair will receive a gift. This is not a contest of any kind, Manager Bob Fullenwider stressed. Nor will the daily recipient be determined by the elaborateness of the outfit. Anyone and everyone will be eligible, both young and old.

Today is Tuesday, Dec. 22, the 356th day of the year, with 9 more days in 1959.
The moon is in its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury and Venus.

On this day in history:
In 1775, the continental fleet was organized, consisting of two frigates, two brigs and three schooners.

In 1869, American poet Edwin Arlington Robinson was born.

In 1941, a message from Wake Island said the American stronghold had fallen to the Japanese.

In 1944, General Anthony McAuliffe, the commander of the 101st Airborne Division, caught in the Battle of the Bulge, answered a German demand for surrender in one word. It was—"Nuts."

A thought for today: Former President Herbert Hoover said: "A good many things go around in the dark besides Santa Claus."

A recent survey in Minnesota shows that 74 per cent of its high school students between 15-18 years of age read one or more daily newspapers regularly, while 82 per cent read Sunday papers.

SACRAMENTO — Drinking drivers will receive special law enforcement attention during the forthcoming holidays, according to plans announced today in Sacramento by the California Highway Patrol and the State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control.

Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden and ABC Director Thomas W. Martin, joining in a two-pronged attack on the drinking driver problem, promise aggressive, professional enforcement action against all violators.

"Our agents will again work closely with the Highway Patrol in a determined campaign to control the excessive drinking situation both on and off the highways," Martin declared. "Our cooperative enforcement efforts have brought favorable results in the past and I believe they will be effective again this year."

Crittenden noted that "all military and local police agencies are being asked to join us in this effort during the holidays."

"We are looking forward to a broader and more effective program than ever before," he added. "We are supporting this program with an extensive public information campaign which we hope will reach every user of our streets and highways between now and Christmas Eve."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An expensive extract from seaweed — carrageenin — appears promising as a treatment for peptic ulcer, reports Dr. John C. Houck of the Children's Hospital Research Foundation in Washington, D. C.

The extract apparently interferes with development of ulcers by blocking the action of pepsin. Ulcers produced artificially in rats were "completely inhibited" when carrageenin was added to drinking water, Dr. Houck said.
